

Dear Dairy.

I landed on an island and I meet a really nice boy. His name is Ralph. He is so much different from the kids back home. If you are wondering how I got on this island I could tell you. All I know is that we had to leave home and fly somewhere safer. There was a war so we the a bunch of people had to escape. I just really hope my family is safe. I found out that Ralph's dad is in the Marines and he is going to come save us, well we hope he is going to come save us. We found a conch and Ralph blow it and a bunch of boys came out of the forest and a bunch of choir boys. The leader of the choir boys name is Jack and he is not the nicest guy. He calls me Piggie because I am fat. Ralph doesn't know my real name and everyone calls my Piggie but Jack makes fun of me. We also decided on a chief. Our chief is Ralph because we all trust him. Even though Jack is the oldest no one wants him to be the leader. I didn't want Jack because he is a rude person. So now Jack is going to be a hunter along with the other choir boys. Tomorrow Jack and the other boys are going hunting to get a pig I hope they find one because I am very hungry.

Sincerely,
Piggie.

Dear Dairy,

I met a little boy he has a funny looking mark on his face Ralph called it a birth mark. What is a birth mark? Wait I remember my aunt saying something about birthmarks they are marks you are born with. I remember seeing people at school with them. Today we decided to make a fire but the grass started on fire and it started the hill on fire. I was looking for the boy with the birthmark but could find him I think he died in the fire. I remember Ralph didn't believe him about the beasties but I believe the boy because I don't think little boys lie I never did when I was little. Ralph said it was all a lie because there are no big animals on a small island like this. I believe that it is possible to have a large beast on the island but why doesn't Ralph? Jack think the boy is trying to scare other so he won't be the only one that is scared to be here. Jack and his crew tend to pick on the weak and scared boys. That's why I think they pick on me because I am a weak person. Most of these boys aren't weak. Maybe they like to pick on the ones that are younger. I just try to stay away from Jack and the other choir boys because they are mean to me and don't care if they hurt your feelings. That's why I hate him but the littluns think he is the coolest person, besides Ralph, on this island. That's all I have for today I hope to be back to write tomorrow.

Sincerely,
Piggie.
